

Transfer of charge during electrolysis

This happens in three steps:

- The movement of electrons in the metallic conductor ( wire).
  - The removal or addition of electrons from the external circuit at the electrodes.
  - The movement of ions in the electrolyte
-